With this basic information you and the lawyer can arrive at a proper will for your circumstances. The following items will probably be discussed:

1. Whether to transfer the assets down to the next generation instead of leaving it to your spouse.
2. Leaving the estate to the children in trust, if both you and your spouse should not survive.
3. Whether the children are to receive the funds at the age of 18 or later (it has to be a contingent gift to use a date other than 18 years of age).
4. What to happen with the property if the whole family were killed in a car crash or something.
5. If one of the children should not survive should his/her share go to his/her children.
6. Do you need a Power of Attorney? (this appoints somebody to handle your financial & business affairs while you are alive). This is a powerful document and has a potential for misuse. It will however, save a substantial amount of money if it is available when you are incapable of carrying on your own affairs.
7. Living Will (medical care proxy)? (Appoints somebody to make medical and personal care decisions if you are unable to continue to do so).
8. DO NOT PLAN YOUR WILL AS THOUGH YOU ARE GOING TO DIE TWENTY YEARS FROM NOW. PLAN IT TO COVER YOUR CURRENT WISHES.
